

HOW TO PRAY IN A CRISIS

DISCUSSION GUIDE

Step Four: Determine You'll Become Spiritually CONTAGIOUS

Intro

Share your thoughts about the following quote: "The key to an new movement of the Spirit of God will not be in a new technique, but in the 'old' path of Gospel proclamation, earnest prayer and yearning for the Sprit." – JD Greear

1. How would you define the word "revival"? How did this chapter challenge some of your pre-conceived ideas about revival?
 - a) How did it inspire new optimism about a deep and transformative work of the Holy Spirit in your life, church, and our society?
2. As you reflect on this chapter, what biblical motivations do you want to embrace as you seek a greater work of the Holy Spirit in your life and world? How might this change the way you pray in the coming days?
3. Interact with Daniel Hederson's thoughts on the bottom of page 89-90. How do you think our society would react to us if we were filled with a fresh zeal, boldness and urgency to proclaim Christ?

4. In the following chart compare and contrast the “fruits” of revival with its “roots”.

| Fruits of Revival | Roots of Revival |

5. Norman Grubb’s description of a mighty work of the Spirit was summarized as “Roof off, walls down.” What can you do to more fully participate in this kind of reality in the context of your own church? When will you start and what will that look like in the normal rhythms of your life? What might you do to pursue this reality during our current lockdown?

Breakout

1. After reading and discussing this chapter, what one thing is the Lord prompting you to apply to your prayer life right now?

2. What has encouraged your heart in the past 3 weeks? Likewise, what have been struggling with most in the past 3 weeks? How can others in your group be praying for you specifically at this time?

3. Spend a significant amount of time calling out to the Lord, asking Him to grow each of us in a greater hunger and capacity in prayer.
